

CORA CLEANUPS

COMMUNITIES ORGANIZED FOR RESOURCE ALLOCATION

Etiqa Philippines joins hands with Maybank Philippines and Communities Organized for Resourced Allocation (CORA) to protect our environment!

In a powerful display of volunteerism and community spirit, Etiqa employees recently took part in a Coastal Cleanup at the Las Piñas - Parañaque Wetland Park, a vital area for biodiversity preservation and eco-tourism. This initiative was a part of CORA's #CORACleanUps Program, which actively addresses plastic pollution and promotes sustainable practices that safeguard the Las Piñas - Parañaque Critical Habitat and Eco-Tourism Area (LPPCHEA)

Together with Maybank Philippines and CORA, our team helped collect and responsibly dispose of plastic waste to preserve this critical ecosystem. This cleanup reflects Etiqa Philippines' commitment to creating lasting positive impacts. We're proud to stand alongside CORA and Maybank Philippines to empower vulnerable communities, schools, and youth in our shared mission to make the world a better place.
